BACKGROUND

George, the landlord of The Lock Inn, was a chipper and podgy gentleman who loved a good puzzle. Since joining the Vermilion Society, his passion for puzzles grew, and he spent many hours modifying his pub so that the Deeds to it would not be stolen. Until... one day a mysterious figure called The Brewer poisoned George's stash of beers and made his regulars sick. The Lock Inn was since condemned due to the high levels of Aconite found and George was never seen again.
